

You notice the Canadian Shield standing proudly out before clusters of 300-year old white pines that reach up as high as Niagara Falls.

Songbirds whistle at you as you walk the trails that fork through Ontario's boreal forest or across its wide-open plains.

Whatever worries you had evaporate as you breathe in nature's clean air on a sunny day.

A sunny winter day.

Kenora: a four-season destination

www.kenora.ca

